Starbelly

3583 16th Street (Castro)

415.252.7500 | www.starbellysf.com

Slated to debut in the Castro in mid August, Deborah Blum and Adriano Paganini (partners in Beretta restaurant) will open Starbelly in the space formerly home to Asqew Grill. Expect California comfort food, a laid back atmosphere, and a great beer selection set in a comfortable and open space, with the sunniest 30-seat patio in the neighborhood. Executive chef Adam Timney will cure his own meats and create a menu that showcases the bounty of fresh, local, and organic ingredients readily available to bay area chefs. The bar program will feature creative juice and herb-based alcoholic and non-alcoholic drinks and over 20 beers, including many local options and some organic brews from around the world.

Order: Try one of bar manager Lane Ford's beer cocktails including shandies and micheladas to quench your thirst on a warm day.
